

Barry Govan

Much more than just a magician, Barry is in particular demand by Companies who want their clients to be entertained by someone who is different and memorable.

Barry's Close Up Magic is so good he allows the audience to be as close to him as their own shadow. As a matter of fact, his hobby is fooling some of the finest magicians in the world with his own magical creations.

He is the author of a number of technical magic books published worldwide and regularly tours the USA lecture circuit teaching other magicians his methods. He has performed at the prestigious Magic Castle in Hollywood, and brings new meaning to the words misdirection and psychology.
